We are an internationally renowned company based in Cressier near Neuchâtel in western Switzerland. We design, develop, and manufacture centrifugal pumps and diaphragm control valves to meet the most demanding requirements, and supply them to the industrial, chemical and wastewater sectors.

To strengthen our Project Management team, we are looking for a qualified and motivated engineer.

Project manager (m/f) - 100%.

Tasks:

- Technical management of orders for all assigned projects in terms of quality, costs and delivery times, from transfer of sale to final acceptance by the customer.
- Simultaneous management of several projects.
- Technical and commercial support for sales during the preparation of quotations.
- Interfacing with customers, suppliers, and internal company departments.
- Coordinating the timely production of the necessary project documentation.
- Organizing meetings (videoconferences, COM) with the customer.
- Accompanying factory inspections and acceptances in the presence of the customer.
- Drawing up the final Manufacturer Record Book (MRB) for complex projects.

Profile and skills:

- Technician ES or bachelor's degree (mechanical engineering) or equivalent training.
- Ideally with professional experience in the mechanical engineering industry, as well as knowledge of hydraulic principles, construction, production, and materials technology.
- Experience in project management is an advantage
- Good knowledge of IT tools (MS Office, CRM, ERP)
- Ability to negotiate orally and in writing in German (mother tongue) and English, as well as good knowledge of French (at least B2)
- Negotiation skills, communication skills, assertiveness, an analytical mind, a structured and solution-oriented working method, autonomous management of tasks and time, a sense of responsibility, personal initiative and team spirit are essential skills.
- Availability for business travel

Place of work: Cressier / NE
Start date: immediately or to be agreed.
